The Greater Metropolitan
Cemeteries Trust
Lasting memories, peaceful places.

ABOUT THIS DOCUMENT:

During 2015/2016 The Greater Metropolitan Cemetery Trust (GMCT) developed a series of short histories as part of its obligations under the Public Records Act 1973. The documents focus on the administrative history of each cemetery, providing a range of information which may be useful to researchers, including a brief historical overview, timeline and bibliography. GMCT gratefully acknowledges the work of Dr Jan Penney and Sarah Hurley in the development of this document.

Cemeteries are controlled by a Trust appointed by the Governor in Council on the recommendation of the responsible Minister. The Greater Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust is a Class A Trust and a body corporate with perpetual succession established by the Governor in Council pursuant to regulations under the Cemeteries Act 1958 and updated within the Cemeteries and Crematoria Act 2003. The Trust is responsible for the maintenance of the cemetery, the handling of funds and the erection of monuments. Core services include interment in graves, interment in mausolea, interment of cremated remains, cremations, venue hire, hospitality, memorialisation, perpetual maintenance, archival cemetery and genealogical records and community events.

From 1864 to August 1873 The Commissioner of Public Works and the Public Works Department were responsible for cemeteries including the appointment of Trustees and fees charged (VRG28). From 1873 to 1888 The Commissioner of Crown Lands and Survey and the Department of Crown Lands and Survey were responsible (VG18). In 1888 the Chief Secretary and his Department (VRG26) were in control of cemeteries, but in 1890 the Minister for Health and the Department of Public Health (VRG39) become responsible under the Public Health Act 1889 – 53 (Vic No:1044).<sup>1</sup> In 1944 the new Ministry of Health Act (1943) and the Cemeteries Act 1944 (5025) saw the Minister for Health and the Department of Health become the responsible entity.<sup>2</sup> On 1 January 2015 the Department of Health and Human Services was formed, integrating the Department of Health and the Department of Human Services Sport and Recreation.

In 2002 the government initiated a Report on the financial viability of Cemetery Trusts which raised a number of concerns over the viability, financial management and governance of some cemeteries.<sup>3</sup> In 2004 The Department of Human Services was advised of concerns related to probity at some cemeteries and the Auditor General completed a review which was reported to Parliament in May 2005.<sup>4</sup> As a result the Minister for Health requested the Auditor General to widen the Review to include all major cemeteries<sup>5</sup> Government then initiated a review of the major cemetery trusts under section 50 of the Public Services Act (relating largely to the governance and effectiveness of the cemetery sector as a whole) which was undertaken by the State Services Authority and tabled in Parliament in June 2007.<sup>6</sup>

In July 2008 the State Government announced reforms to the fourteen major metropolitan and regional Cemetery Trusts that report to Parliament.<sup>7</sup> Two major metropolitan Trusts were created, the Southern Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust, and the Greater Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust, three regional Class A Trusts and five other Trusts. Another major review of the five Class A Trusts was completed in May 2013 to ensure that the reforms were proceeding smoothly.<sup>8</sup>

Greater Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust was formed in 2010 and assumed responsibility for twenty cemetery sites.<sup>9</sup>

Andersons Creek Cemetery is administered by the State Government through an independent Trust Board, the Greater Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust, Class A, established in 2010.<sup>10</sup>

Andersons Creek Cemetery covers 3.3 hectares and is a suburb north-east of Melbourne.<sup>11</sup> It offers burial services and commemoration and memorialisation for cremated remains.<sup>12</sup> Originally, Andersons Creek was a monumental cemetery with pioneer graves for early miners in the Warrandyte area.<sup>13</sup> From the late-1970s onwards, it rapidly expanded due to the closure of Templestowe Cemetery, transforming into a lawn cemetery with a bushland theme.<sup>14</sup>

Andersons Creek Cemetery, also known as Warrandyte Cemetery, opened on 28 September 1866.<sup>15</sup> It was administered by a series of Trustees, in accordance with the Rules and Regulations published in the Victorian Government Gazette, from 1866 until 2010.<sup>16</sup>

Bushfires had a continuous and devastating impact on Andersons Creek Cemetery. The Black Friday fires on 13 January 1939 destroyed most of the cemetery burial registers as well as a number of wooden grave markers at Andersons Creek.<sup>17</sup> Most headstones prior to 1938 are unmarked and there is no complete record of those buried at the cemetery between 1866 and 1938.<sup>18</sup> Two more bushfires, in 1975 and 1979, added to the damage.<sup>19</sup>

Andersons Creek Cemetery Trust authorized the creation of a plaque at the front of the cemetery, detailing the burials of nearly 220 people between 1867 and 1938, as well as restored pioneer headstones.<sup>20</sup> The earliest recorded burial at Andersons Creek Cemetery was for Rosa May Pretty, who died on 21 March 1867, aged 34.<sup>21</sup> The oldest dated headstone at Andersons Creek is from January 1873, in memory of Caroline Hastings.<sup>22</sup>

Andersons Creek Cemetery Trust also prioritized cemetery expansion.<sup>23</sup> On 14 August 1943, Andersons Creek Cemetery Trust made its first purchase of an additional 1.29 hectares of Crown land.<sup>24</sup> From 1943 onwards, the Trust continuously inquired into the possible acquisition of land for cemetery purposes from the Department of Health and Human Services, Victoria, the Melbourne Metropolitan Board of Works, Parks Victoria and Manningham Council.<sup>25</sup> In July 1996 and June 1998, Andersons Creek Cemetery Trust also sought to gain additional space for interments in partnership with Park Victoria and Kangaroo Ground Cemetery, although unsuccessfully.<sup>26</sup> Additional land was also acquired for Andersons Creek Cemetery on 11 December 1947, and a total of 7.89 hectares was purchased between 1975 and 1992.<sup>27</sup>

Andersons Creek Cemetery Trust continuously appealed to St. Gerard's Church for additional land. After negotiations with the local church for the purchase of 4.047 hectares, Andersons Creek Cemetery Trust settled on 1.214 hectares of land suitable for cemetery use on 15 May 1979.<sup>28</sup> Between December 1991 and October 1994, Andersons Creek Cemetery underwent minor expansion with the addition of sections of land purchased from St Gerard's Church.<sup>29</sup> Andersons Creek Cemetery Trust did not acquire large areas of land from St. Gerard's Church, and land settlement was irregular. Agreement over the Trust acquiring land from the Church on 3 July 2006 took 11 years to finalise.<sup>30</sup> Andersons Creek Cemetery is currently close to capacity.

Andersons Creek Cemetery is now administered by the government through an independent Trust Board, the Greater Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust, established in 2010.<sup>31</sup>
