

The Greater Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust

Strategic Plan 2017 - 2022
Stepping up, reaching beyond

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIR AND CEO

The Greater Metropolitan Cemeteries Trust (GMCT) is committed to serving the communities of yesterday, today and tomorrow. GMCT is pleased to share with you our strategic vision and road map for 2017-22.

This exciting new strategic plan builds on our achievements since the establishment of GMCT in 2010. Our plan has been informed by ongoing consultation with our internal and external stakeholders – including our customers and visitors, staff, our community advisory committee, members of the funeral industry, cultural, religious and special interest groups, local residents, and local and state government.

At the heart of this new strategic plan remain our organisational values: respect, integrity, sustainability and compassion.

As a cemetery trust, GMCT serves a diverse and multicultural community. Meeting the equally diverse expectations and needs of those communities is our core focus.

We understand that a commitment to operational excellence is critical to meeting those expectations and that our achievements to date provide a foundation on which to build. Our strategic theme – stepping up and reaching beyond – serves to articulate a commitment to our team and our stakeholders, to ensure we consistently strive to deliver beyond expectations, challenge perceptions of the industry, improve our service offering, and work with our communities.

Our aspirational roadmap for the next five years will see GMCT focus on four fundamental pillars: community connections, lasting stewardship, operational excellence and change ready agility. These priority areas will underpin and inform initiatives and decision making over the next five years and ensure we are focused, transparent and accountable.

Meeting the goals outlined in this strategic plan will require us to invest in our staff, through recruitment and training programs and dedicated efforts to build a positive and aligned corporate culture.

While our communities continue to change and evolve, GMCT will continue to provide burial, cremation and memorialisation services. However, while an effective road map provides organisational vision and a strategy for action, it must also allow room to respond to new opportunities, challenges, and changing needs and expectations. We will ensure this strategic plan is reviewed regularly, supported by continued stakeholder consultation and feedback so that it remains fit for purpose, laying the foundation for GMCT to build on in the long term.

We invite you to review our strategic plan and to let us know how we are doing. Your feedback is invaluable as we commence this next phase and will help us continue to provide the community with relevant, trusted and compassionate burial, cremation and memorialisation services; and importantly, create spaces, places and experiences for you, your family and future generations.

BUILD ON OUR HISTORY

GMCT has a long and proud history. Establishment of the trust in 2010 brought together eight existing cemetery trusts into one.

We are responsible for the care and maintenance of 21 sites that form an arc across Melbourne, from Werribee in the west to Emerald in the east. Many of these cemeteries have provided services to their local communities for more than 150 years. Over this time, we have supported generations of Victorians with compassion and respect. Our cemeteries provide a peaceful resting place for many of Melbourne's key historical figures, such as Dame Nellie Melba and John Fawkner. Our history is important to us, but we have also striven to adapt to changing community needs and expectations – to remain future ready.

GMCT's role has evolved from that of an infrastructure provider to an integral part of the community service system. We work hard to ensure our services are respectful and responsive to different cultural needs, values and beliefs. We now offer green and natural burial options, and play a more active role in community conversations about planning ahead. Increasingly, we are exploring the place of digital technologies and online memorialisation to support day-to-day operations and service delivery.

As community and religious needs evolve, our priority over the next five years will be to ensure we meet community infrastructure needs well into the future. This will require implementation of our land strategy out to 2021, and further horizons of 2031, 2041 and 2051, and developing the infrastructure of our on-site facilities and venues to support a diverse range of community expectations and needs. Master planning is a key feature of our 2016-21 strategic plan.

GMCT will continue to listen to our communities and explore new and innovative approaches to remembrance. We will balance innovation with our role as a custodian of history, and work actively to integrate history and heritage in planning for the future. Above all, our core focus is constant – providing exceptional remembrance services for generations of families.

"I am calling to compliment your staff for their friendliness, kindness, help and assistance... [which] enabled a family to reunite and mingle with long lost friends and family."

- Customer compliment

“People step up and provide excellent service delivery. They focus on our families. Those families walk away and have had a positive experience.”

COMMUNITY
CONNECTIONS

WE HAVE ESTABLISHED STRONG FOUNDATIONS: NOW IS THE TIME TO STEP UP

GMCT’s strategic plan for 2013-16 provided a three-year road map for transforming eight separate trusts into one. During this time, we successfully implemented initiatives that enhanced our operations and corporate governance frameworks. We have developed a land strategy, reviewed and reconfigured our structure and vital business functions, streamlined burial operations and processes, implemented a new technology platform, and strengthened our employee engagement and training. Importantly, we established a firm and dedicated focus on family care, and enhanced the role of GMCT as an integral community service provider.

We are proud of the GMCT team’s hard work and commitment to our organisational values. Our strong culture has been built on this foundation and will be integral as we take the next step towards a future of excellent customer and stakeholder experience, industry leadership and community care.

OUR ASPIRATIONS FOR 2017-2022

The coming years will focus on integrating and leveraging digital technologies to enhance the experience of our customers, improve our service offering and augment business systems and processes. With a renewed emphasis on customer-centric service, we will invest significantly in consumer insights, market research and community engagement to ensure our actions, decisions and initiatives align with current and emerging community expectations, not only in relation to burial, cremation and memorial needs but also the broader cemetery sector and public open spaces.

We will continue to set a high benchmark with respect to our role as industry leaders, in particular supporting Class B cemetery trusts and strengthening relations with the funeral and stonemason industries.

ABOUT US

At GMCT we believe in caring for your loved ones with dignity and compassion.

Each year, our staff assist over 11,000 families to plan and prepare for funeral, cremation, interment and memorial services. Across our sites, we provide a peaceful resting place for loved ones who have died and a meaningful place where the living can remember, celebrate and cherish family members or friends.

We respect all peoples, our heritage, our communities and the environment.

We offer a wide range of burial, cremation and mausoleum options, which allow Melbourne's diverse communities to make choices according to cultural traditions and customs, personal and religious preferences. We recognise that every journey is different and provide compassionate guidance and support to help you make decisions that are right for you.

In addition to the funeral services we provide, we commit to caring for your loved ones long into the future. Our perpetual maintenance fund ensures all of our cemeteries and memorial parks are maintained in perpetuity. We are committed to maintaining beautiful, restful and sustainable places that are also rich in history.

OUR STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

We will focus on four strategic priorities to enable GMCT to step up and reach towards greater influence, relevance and success:

Community connections

We will lead and nurture strong connections with the communities we serve

Lasting stewardship

We are stewards of the community assets we care for now and in perpetuity

Operational excellence

Our people will strive for excellence in everything we do, facilitated by innovative and effective technology, systems and processes

Change ready agility

Our culture is brave, innovative and collaborative, and aligns with our corporate values and strategic goals

There are 12 strategies supporting our four priorities. Our annual plans will provide the mechanism through which we will action and realise this five-year strategic plan. Through these plans we will align, prioritise and measure our efforts and investment at each stage of our five-year journey.

OUR KEY MEASURES OF SUCCESS

Our key measures of success align to our four priority areas for 2017-2022. They will be the over-arching measures that will guide us to successful implementation of this strategic plan over the next five years. Our key measures of success are supported by strategic performance indicators and our annual planning process.

OUR COMMUNITIES

GMCT serves a diverse community. Every year, we welcome more than one million visitors to our sites, and support over 12 thousand families with a range of religious, cultural and demographic expectations and needs. GMCT is committed to ensuring our cemeteries remain relevant to local communities. We achieve this by working closely with Melbourne’s diverse cultural, religious, demographic and special interest groups.

Our cemeteries and memorial parks are invaluable community assets, providing local residents with stunning public parks. As guardians of history and heritage, we share, celebrate and hold the stories of those laid to rest, who remain in our care, in perpetuity.

An integral part of GMCT’s community engagement program is our community advisory committee – a group of committed volunteers who represent the wider community and importantly, assist GMCT in identifying and understanding the needs and preferences of the communities we serve. They ensure our actions, initiatives and decisions are informed by community input and contribute invaluable local knowledge, such as religious, cultural and heritage perspectives.

“It’s a good opportunity to learn about different people and cultures; understanding the needs of different cultures and providing a dignified service to those communities.”

- Steve, Client Services

OUR PROFILE IS CONTINUALLY EVOLVING

Our profile is continually evolving in response to the needs of our communities.

OUR GOVERNANCE

GMCT is classified as a Class A Cemetery Trust under the Cemeteries and Crematoria Act 2003 (the Act). We are responsible to the Minister for Health, and governed by trust members appointed by the government.

Trust members are accountable for the good governance of the corporation, including:

- setting the strategic objectives of the trust
- risk management
- determining all material policies governing operations
- reviewing the progress and performance of the trust in meeting its strategic objectives.

In consultation with the trust, members participate in a number of trust committees. These committees provide review or advisory services to help execute trust responsibilities. The current trust committees are:

- audit and risk management committee
- community advisory committee
- executive performance and remuneration committee
- finance and investment committee.

GMCT AT A GLANCE: IN 2017

AT A GLANCE: TOWARDS 2021

Towards 2021, GMCT as an organisation will continue to evolve. The impact of an ageing population indicates demand for products and services will continue to grow, and we need to ensure we have the resources to respond, both in terms of staff and infrastructure. We know we need more diversity in our staff profile, both in terms of gender and cultural mix, to provide exemplary customer service and to adequately meet the needs of our communities. Changing trends and digital memorialisation will impact our traditional service offer, and we need to have the internal capability to respond to these trends.

OUR KEY STAKEHOLDERS

GMCT works with a number of stakeholders across the funeral and cemetery sector, local communities and government. We greatly value these relationships and the positive impact they have on our business and service delivery.

OUR CEMETERIES - THE LIFECYCLE

Cemeteries within Victoria are considered to operate within five distinct stages, often described as a cemetery's lifecycle. GMCT manages 21 sites allocated for cemetery use, with many sites considered to be reaching peak capacity or to have entered a level of perpetual maintenance.

OUR SECTOR IS MATURE BUT EVOLVING

Trends in GMCT's external environment greatly influence the way we conduct our business. These include:

Changing consumer preferences

Industry demand is influenced by consumer preferences. Increasingly, consumer preferences for products and services are becoming more bespoke. GMCT will work to provide more tailored services based on a better understanding of our customers and strengthened partnering with the funeral industry.

Rapid growth in social media and use of technology

The impact of social media and technology on our business is increasingly aligned with our aim to be future ready. GMCT is responding to better leverage these tools to improve communication, and drive effectiveness and efficiency in our processes. Through this strategy we will invest in a more innovative, digital-savvy workforce.

An increasingly commercially-minded funeral sector

The funeral sector is changing and becoming more competitive. To respond, GMCT is increasing our emphasis on family care, and delivering an excellent customer and stakeholder experience. We will also focus on building awareness of GMCT as a community partner and leading provider of remembrance and memorialisation services, and combating negative industry perceptions.

Increasing financial pressure

Decreasing financial margins are putting pressure on long term financial sustainability. GMCT will explore innovative models of service delivery and implement processes to reduce costs and improve productivity to ensure we remain a viable organisation into the future.

Attraction and retention of quality staff

There is an increasingly competitive environment for high quality and skilled staff. GMCT is continually looking for ways to improve employee engagement and satisfaction to support the success of our people within GMCT.
